What's New in Quest Migration Manager for SharePoint 2.1.1

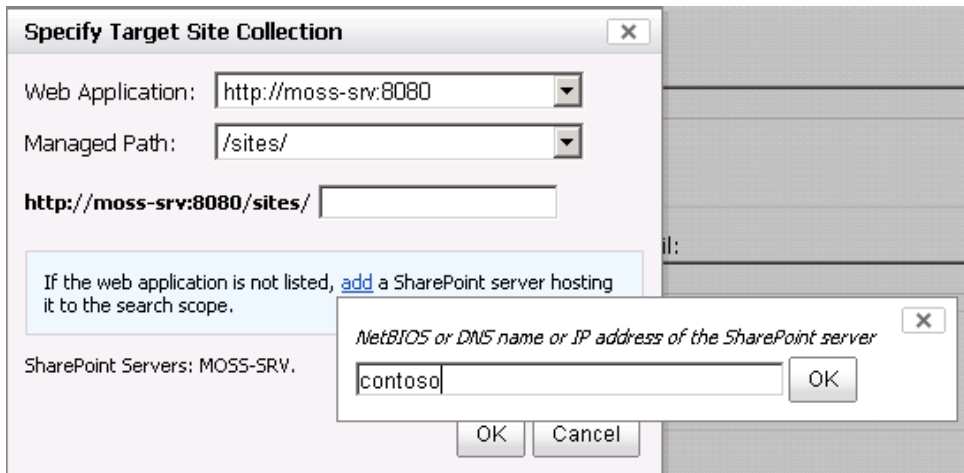

Migration Manager for SharePoint 2.1.1 aims to streamline the initial product configuration and extend Microsoft platform support, as well as provide fixes for issues found in the previous releases (see the release notes and change log for more information).

Automatic Local Server Discovery

When you install Migration Manager on a SharePoint server, the SharePoint server farm the local server belongs to is automatically registered in Migration Manager. You can start migrating sites and content to and from the local farm right after completing the installation.

Server Discovery in the Web Console

The Migration Manager Web Console has been extended to enable adding SharePoint farms with a browser. You can add both the source and target SharePoint servers to Migration Manager as you configure your migration job. The sites and lists from a newly added SharePoint farm are instantly available for selection.

Windows Server 2008 R2 Support

Migration Manager for SharePoint 2.1.1 supports SharePoint servers running Windows Server 2008 R2.
